May 12, 2011. Franklin, Tennessee and Bloomfield Hills, Michigan. Santa Rosa Consulting today announced the opening of new offices in Franklin Tennessee, expanding its presence in the Nashville area. The new office facility significantly increases available space for the Company's burgeoning growth and provides a central location for many administrative functions and for the Company's large Tennessee workforce.

"In many ways Nashville is to healthcare as Silicon Valley is to information technology," said President and Chief Operating Officer Tom Watford, "and Santa Rosa is pleased to be able to increase our presence and our operational capacity in this national center of the healthcare industry. As a national healthcare consulting company we are excited to mark this growth in the Nashville area and can think of no more suitable location from which to serve our healthcare clients. Our new offices in Franklin provide a great location for our employees and allow us to more effectively centralize many administrative and operational functions."

The Company's new offices are located in the Meridian Cool Springs Office Park in Franklin.
